How to use this pack

Over 70 prompts across the 8 marketing jobs every small business faces. Fill in the [brackets], and always paste a real example of your own past posts when a prompt asks for your 'voice' - that's what makes the output sound like you, not a robot.

Job 1 - Ads that sell (1-9)

- 1 Write 3 short ads for [product] aimed at [audience]. Each must lead with a different pain point.
- 2 Turn this product description into an ad with one hook, one benefit, one call to action: [paste]
- 3 Write a WhatsApp broadcast message announcing [offer]. Max 60 words, no spammy tone.
- 4 Give me 5 headline formulas for [product], then write my best headline using each.
- 5 Rewrite this ad to focus on what the customer gets, not what we do: [paste ad]
- 6 Write an ad for [product] that never mentions the product until the last line.
- 7 Create urgency for [offer] without fake scarcity - what's the honest reason to act now?
- 8 Write the same ad 3 ways: for someone who's never heard of us, someone comparing us, someone ready to buy.
- 9 My budget ad flopped: [paste it]. Diagnose why and rewrite it.

Job 2 - Social captions (10-18)

- 1 Write 5 Instagram captions for [photo description]. Vary the length; each needs a first line that stops the scroll.
- 2 Turn this customer win into a story post (with permission): [describe]
- 3 Write a caption announcing [news] that sounds excited, not corporate.

- 4 Give me 10 first-lines (hooks) for a post about [topic]. Just the hooks.
- 5 Rewrite this caption in my voice - here are 3 of my past posts: [paste all]
- 6 Write a behind-the-scenes post about [what you do daily] that builds trust.
- 7 Create a caption with a genuine question at the end that people will actually answer.
- 8 Write a Facebook post for [offer] for an older, less internet-savvy audience. Simple words, clear steps.
- 9 Turn this FAQ we always get into an engaging post: [paste question and answer]

Job 3 - Product descriptions (19-27)

- 1 Write a product description for [product]: one emotional paragraph, then a clean bullet list of specs.
- 2 Rewrite this description to answer the 3 questions buyers actually have: [paste]
- 3 Describe [product] for someone buying it as a gift.
- 4 Write short (20 word), medium (50 word) and long (120 word) versions of a description for [product].
- 5 Turn these boring specs into benefits: [paste specs]
- 6 Write a description for [product] that handles its main objection ([objection]) head-on.
- 7 Compare [my product] with the cheaper alternative honestly, and explain who should buy which.
- 8 Write a WhatsApp catalogue description for [product]. Max 40 words including price and how to order.
- 9 Name 5 details about [product] I should photograph, and write a caption for each shot.

Job 4 - Content calendars (28-36)

- 1 Build a 30-day content calendar for [business]. Mix: 40% value, 30% engagement, 20% promo, 10% personal.
- 2 Give me 12 content ideas from this one topic: [topic]
- 3 Plan a launch week of posts for [product]: teaser, reveal, proof, offer, last call.
- 4 What should [business type] post during [month/season/holiday]? Give me 10 dated ideas.
- 5 Turn my week into content: here's what happened at work this week: [describe]
- 6 Create 4 repeatable weekly series ideas for [business] (e.g. 'Monday tip'), with the first post written for each.
- 7 I can only post twice a week. Design my best-value posting plan for [business].
- 8 Batch-write 5 posts I can schedule now for [business], each on a different theme.
- 9 Review my last 10 post topics: [list]. What am I over-posting and what's missing?

Job 5 - Customer messages (37-45)

- 1 Write a warm reply to this positive review: [paste]
- 2 Write a calm, professional reply to this negative review that other customers will read: [paste]
- 3 Draft a message checking in on a customer who hasn't ordered in 3 months. No guilt-tripping.
- 4 Write a thank-you message to send after every sale that quietly invites a referral.
- 5 A customer asked for a discount we can't give. Draft the reply: keep the sale alive.
- 6 Write a price-increase announcement that keeps goodwill. Old price [x], new price [y], reason: [reason].

7 Draft a 'we made a mistake' message for [what happened], with what we're doing about it.

8 Write 5 quick-reply templates for our most common questions: [list the questions]

9 Turn this angry WhatsApp message into a de-escalated conversation - write my next 2 replies: [paste]

Job 6 - Offers & promotions (46-54)

1 Design 3 promotion ideas for [product] that don't involve cutting the price.

2 Write the announcement for a [x]% off promotion ending [date]. One version for WhatsApp status, one for Facebook.

3 Create a simple loyalty offer for repeat customers of [business] and write the message announcing it.

4 Bundle these products into an attractive package with a name and pitch: [list products]

5 Write a 'bring a friend' referral offer for [business], with the exact message customers can forward.

6 Plan a slow-season promotion for [business] during [period].

7 Write the fine print for [offer] in plain, friendly English - no lawyer voice.

8 My promo flopped: [describe]. Give me 3 hypotheses why and a test for each.

9 Draft a 'last 24 hours' reminder for [offer] that creates urgency without shouting.

Job 7 - Your brand voice (55-63)

1 Here are 5 things I've written: [paste]. Describe my voice in 5 adjectives and give me rules to keep it consistent.

2 Write a 50-word 'about us' for [business] that sounds like a person, not a plaque.

- 3 Give me a tagline for [business]: 10 options, from safe to bold.
- 4 Define 5 words we always use and 5 words we never use, for a [type] brand aimed at [audience].
- 5 Rewrite this corporate paragraph in a human voice: [paste]
- 6 Write my elevator pitch: what I do, who for, why it's different. 30 seconds spoken.
- 7 Create a short brand story for [business]: why it started, told in first person.
- 8 How should [business] sound different on WhatsApp vs Facebook vs a flyer? Give examples of the same message in each.
- 9 Audit this post for trust-killers (hype words, vagueness, fake enthusiasm): [paste]

Job 8 - Measuring what works (64-72)

- 1 Here's what I posted this month and roughly how each did: [list]. What patterns do you see?
- 2 Design a simple weekly marketing scorecard for [business] I can fill in from my phone.
- 3 What 3 numbers should a [business type] actually track, and how do I track them for free?
- 4 Write 3 versions of the same post so I can test which hook works: [topic]
- 5 My reach dropped this month. Ask me diagnostic questions one at a time.
- 6 Turn these sales figures into a decision - what should I promote more and drop: [paste figures]
- 7 Draft 5 questions I can ask customers on WhatsApp to learn why they bought.
- 8 Help me calculate whether [promotion] actually made money: price [x], cost [y], units [z], discount [d].

- 9 Build me a simple monthly marketing review: 15 minutes, 5 questions, ends with next month's one focus.
