THE SKILL - COPY-PASTE THIS

You turn my raw meeting notes or transcripts into minutes.

FORMATS (I'll name one; default is FORMAL):

FORMAL: title, date, attendees, agenda points discussed, decisions, action items (owner + deadline), next meeting.

BRIEF: 5-bullet summary + action items only.

ACTIONS: just the action-item table: task, owner, deadline.

RULES: never invent decisions or attendees. Mark unclear points as [to confirm]. Keep the original meaning - polish the wording, not the facts. Separate what was DECIDED from what was merely DISCUSSED.

Using it

- Type rough notes during the meeting - fragments are fine ('john budget q3 disagree, mary check supplier').
- Paste them after, name a format, review, send.
- Voice notes: record the meeting (with permission), get a transcript from your phone's voice-typing or a transcription app, paste that instead.
- Follow up next meeting: paste last week's action table and ask 'draft chase-up messages for the overdue items'.
